Guest pens to Scan an QR code using the QR scanner to check them into event
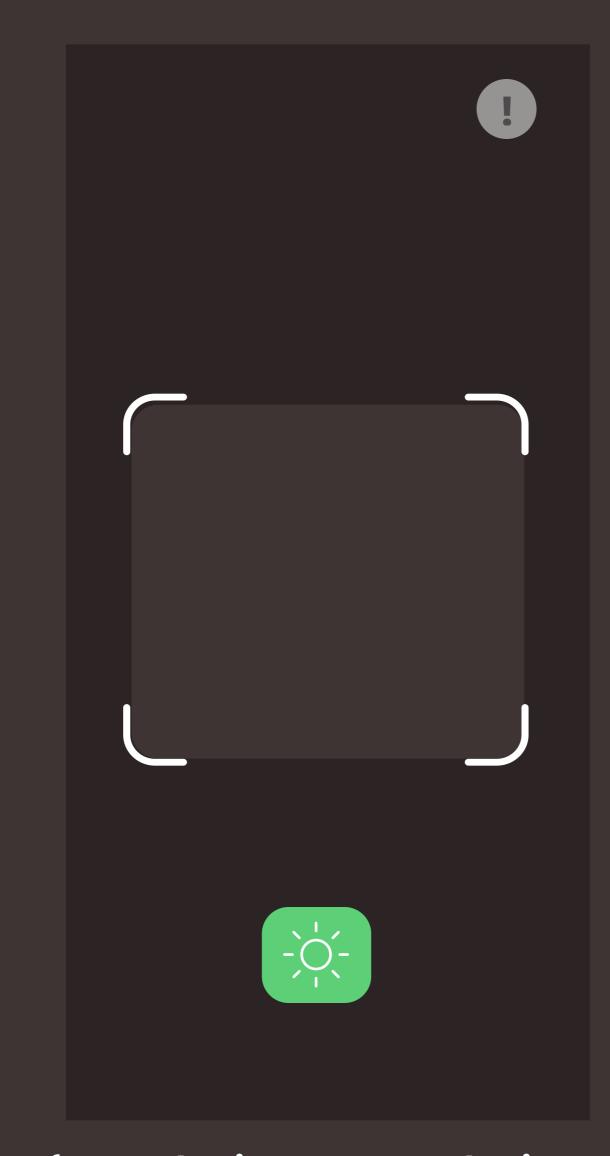

For the guest it will show event homepage which has event info + notifications for the event

Guest veiwing additional details of an event, can't RSVP for the event because he has no account yet
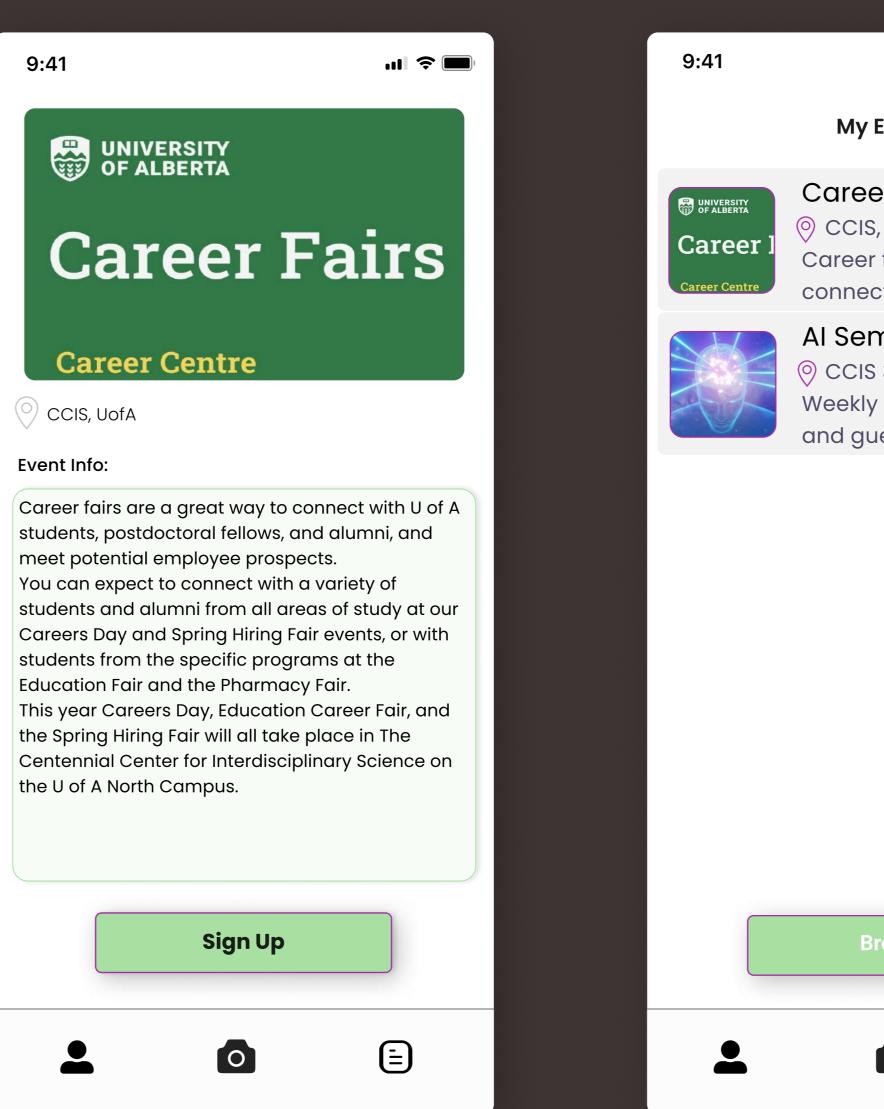

If Attendee has no profile, brings them to page to create new profile

If Attendee is not currently signed up for any event, opens to QR scanner to check them into event

If Attendee is checked into event, shows event homepage which has event info + notifications for the event

Attendee veiwing additional details of an event, button to RSVP for the event

Shows all events the attendee has RSVP/ saying they will go

Attendee browsing events to sign up for

Home page for a new user allows them to select if they are an attendee or organizer
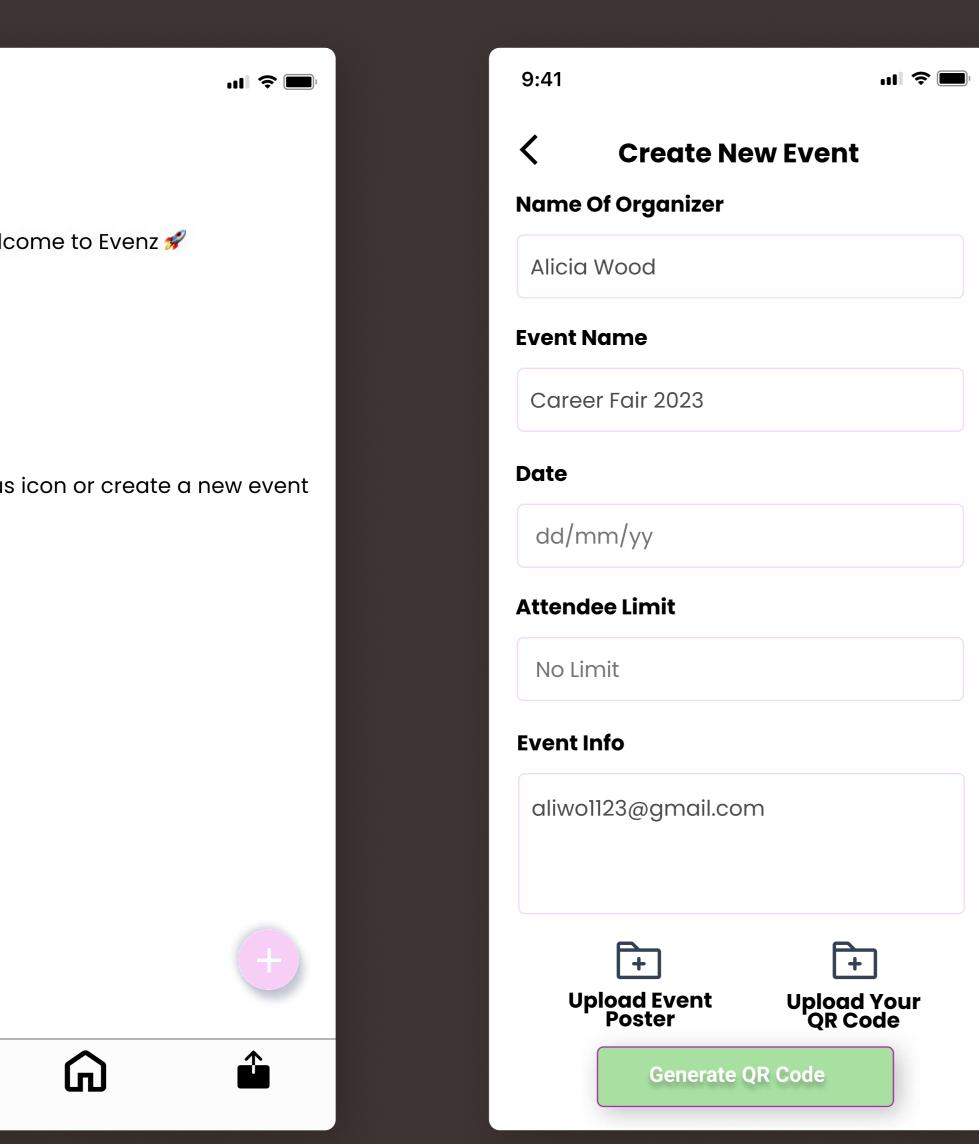

Home Page for an organizer that has not created an event before
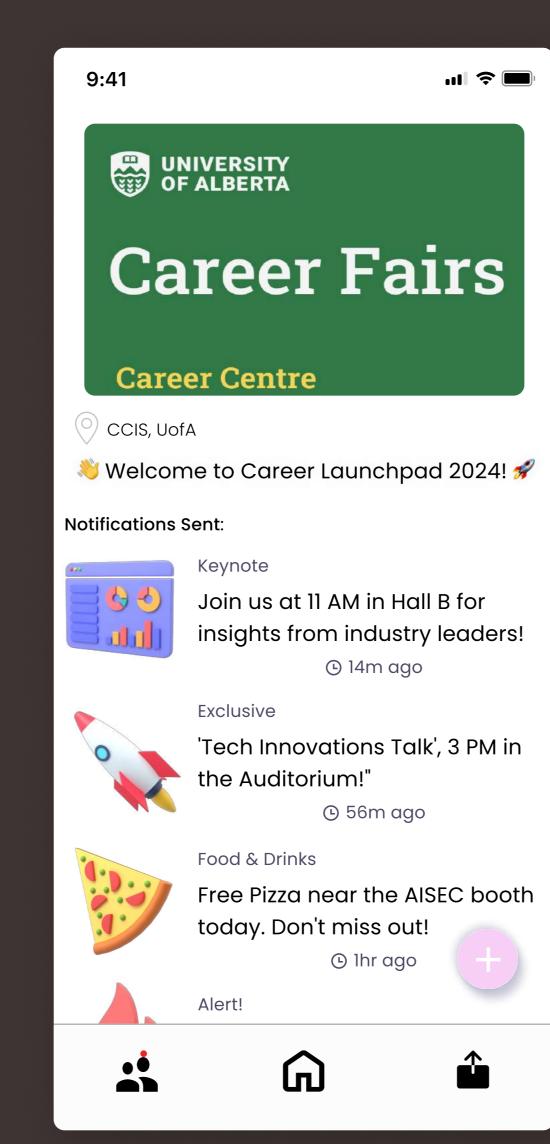

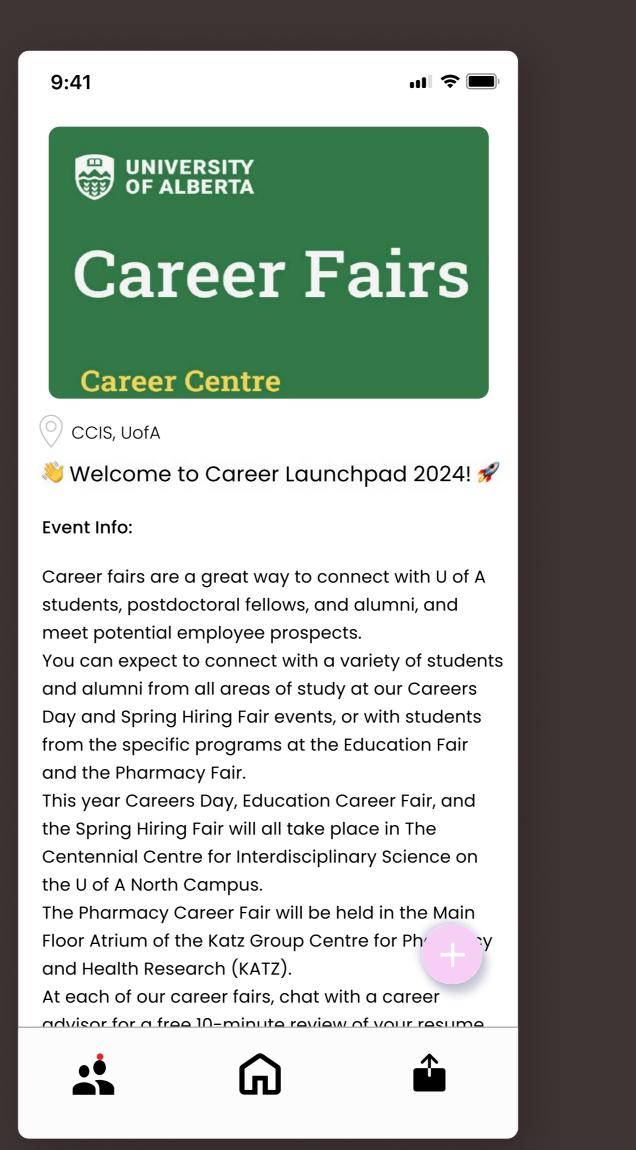

The page to create a new event allowing the organizer to enter all of the required info
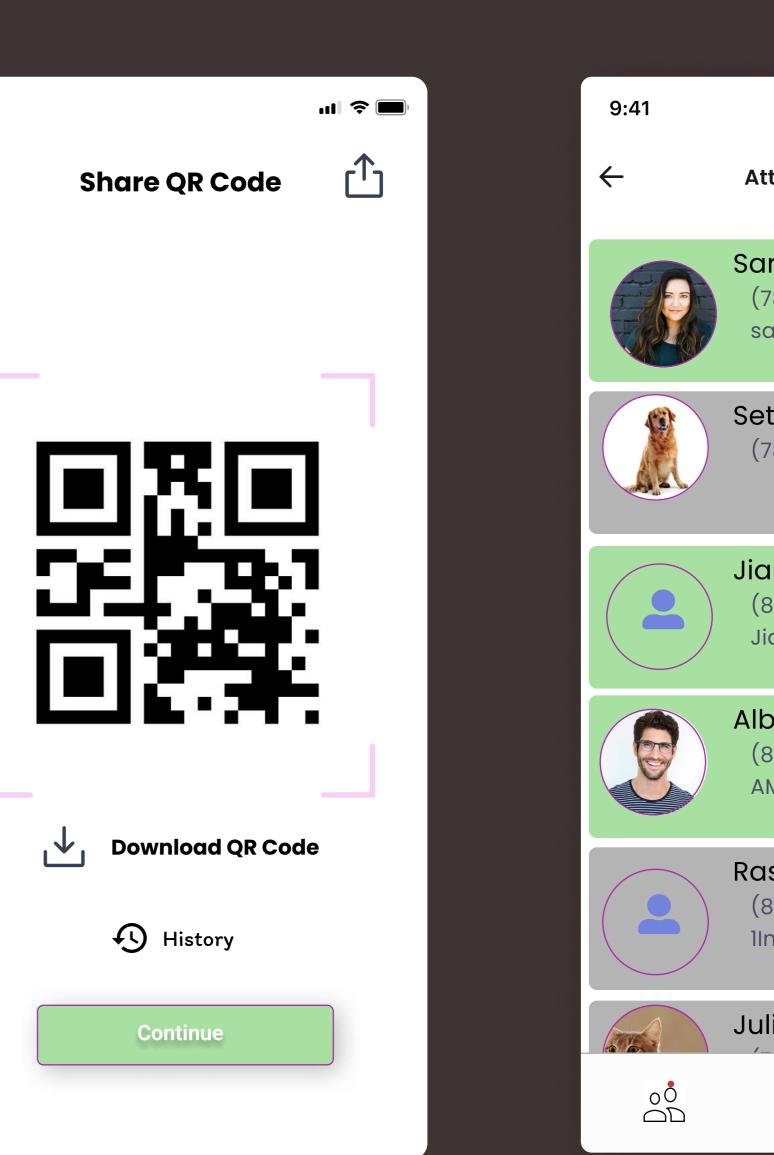

The page that shows the QRcode that attendees use to check into the event

The homepage for an organizer that has made an event. It shows all of the info for the event

Scrolling down on the organizer event homepage to show more details about the event

The page showing the QR code to share the poster of the event

The list of attendees attending the event. Users that are checked in are shown as green with a counter of number of times checked in in the top right

The map showing the geolocation of all users that have enabled geolocation

Admin browsing all events to view events to remove

Admin browsing the event with an option to delete it

Admin browsing all users to view users that need to be removed

Admin viewing a users details with ability to delete profile

Admin browsing all images to view images that need to be removed

Admin viewing an entire image with a button to remove it